

SERVICE FROM YOUR SOFA

Love Letters for Literacy has worked for over 5 years to promote early childhood literacy in all 50 US states. Love Letters has volunteers of all ages and abilities provide these simple literacy packets for pre-readers and early readers which helps explain to families the importance of teaching young children at home.

Support youth literacy skills during this time by making Love Letters for Literacy!

Help youth out of school gain or build literacy skills!

Sit back on your sofa with a simple arts and crafts project that will help children learn to read!

1. Gather

26 pages of paper, any size! Encouraging children to practice and play is most important - not the size of the flashcards!

Tip: Cut an 8 1/2 x 11 paper in half or quarters

2. Write

One capital letter on each page! It can be simple or colorful as long as its easy to read since this will be used to learn the letters! You'll end with a set of 26 cards, with a letter on each!

3. Copy

Template Note on a piece of paper and fill in the blanks. This is from the creator of the packet (YOU) to the child .

4. Print

Cover Letter detailing the games families should play at home with their children.

5. Assemble

First, cover letter from Love Letters, next the template note, then all 26 letters. This packet can be paper-clipped, rubber-banded or put in a zip lock bag.

6. Contact

Email loveletters.literacy@yahoo.com once packets are made so they can help you figure out where your packet should go. They will help you donate to a preschool in need.
